

Red Stone Drilling

...your well engineering partner for success

“ADDRESSING THE NEEDS OF INDEPENDENT OIL & GAS COMPANIES AND PLANTING THE SEEDS FOR A SUCCESSFUL FUTURE”

Red Stone Drilling is a well engineering consultancy specialising in performance well management and drilling engineering. The company is focused upon helping oil companies improve their well construction performance by applying proper and appropriate project management principles.

Red Stone Drilling are committed to becoming a global provider of superior well construction services to the upstream oil and gas industry.

Red Stone Drilling currently have staff working in a number of geographical areas around the world and have extensive experience in the core drilling disciplines and can advise on:

- Exploration, Finder and Development wells
- ERD wells
- HP/HT wells
- UBD and CTD applications
- Drilling depleted reservoirs
- Application and evaluation of new technology

Red Stone Drilling can provide the following services:

- Well engineering / Well project management
- Project planning and performance tracking
- Drilling cost estimates
- Peer reviews
- Drilling risk assessments
- Basis of well design
- Permitting & Consents
- Drilling programmes
- Drilling advisors
- Ad-hoc drilling engineering support
- Well performance management
- Defining well engineering management system

Whether you are a multi-national, global operator or a small independent why not give Red Stone Drilling a call to find out how they can help you.

Riverside House
Riverside Drive
Aberdeen AB11 7LH
UK
Tel: +44 1224 739189
E-mail: info@redstonedrilling.com
Web: www.redstonedrilling.com

